About Town And Country

By TIMOTHEUS T.

LOOKING AROUND: Notice in the Mt. Vernon Register-News that the Mt. Vernon fund for new industries had reached $140,000, a lot of money, on Monday. The goal is $250,000, also a lot of money. Mt. Vernon is really out after industry.

Over at Eldorado, I notice where Gill Montgomery of that city who is general manager of the fluorspar mining division of Minerva Oil Co., has returned from Washington where he spent a week testifying with other fluorspar mine operators at hearings before the U. S. Tariff commission and the Committee for Reciprocity Information.

The group is seeking to get a low tariff cancelled and the duty on acid grade fluorspar restored to the former level of $5.60, and also to raise all fluorspar tariffs, so that domestic mines again can supply at least 75 per cent of the nation's needs.

Down at Metropolis the Loyal Order of Moose has come up with a novel way to curb Halloween pranks.

All children between the ages of seven and 16 inclusive will be given free show passes for signing the following pledge:

"I, _____, pledge to be safely minded and not to destroy or be destructive to property on Halloween Night, as support to Youth Honor Day."

Also, I learned in the Metropolis News that a perfect formula for sound sleep is liquor, bread and angelfood cake.

When employees of a bakery there reported for work at 2:30 a. m. they found a 23-year-old Metropolis man sleeping so soundly they thought he was dead.

Authorities were called and learned that he first had imbibed alcoholic beverages, then broke out a window at the bakery. Entering, he ate a quantity of bread and angelfood cake.

At West Frankfort, preparations are being made to construct a modern two-room business building on the site of the four-room Lane building destroyed by fire Aug. 17. Damage by the fire was set at $200,000.

Saw a familiar face in the Golconda Herald-Enterprise. It belonged to Charles M. "Coke" Schrader, son of Mrs. Mary Louise Schrader of San Diego, Calif., formerly of Harrisburg.

His photo was in a "Meet Our Readers" series the Herald-Enterprise is running. He is teaching in high school at Golconda and is assisting Basketball Coach Gene Dick with the squad.

And from "Inspiration": Prospect—Ye gad! What a tumbledown looking shack. What's holding it together?

Agent—The termites are holding hands.

And from Uncle Mat's Monthly Letter: Upbraiding his teen-age daughter for her slovenly appearance, a father started in on her like this: "Why, look at your hair. It looks like a mop."

The daughter looked up and inquired innocently: "What's a mop?"

W. Frankfort Man Fatally Shot in Traffic Argument

MARISSA, Ill. (U.P.)—Everett Toms, 33, West Frankfort, Ill., was shot and killed near here Tuesday in a traffic argument on Ill. 13.

The St. Clair County sheriff's office said Tommy Neal, 51, of East St. Louis, was being held in the shooting.

Deputies said Neal told them that Toms threatened him from his car window as they drove their machines along the highway.

Neal said Toms pulled into a filling station near the Red Horse Ranch, stood in the center of the road and forced him to stop.

Deputies said Neal, a Negro, admitted firing the fatal shot after Toms pulled him from his car and struck him.

Authorities said Neal left the scene of the shooting but was picked up later near New Athens, Ill.

John W. Biggers Passes Law Exam

John W. Biggers, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Biggers, has received word that he has passed his Illinois bar examination and expects to practice law in Harrisburg. He received his law degree from the University of Illinois.

Mr. Biggers holds a reserve commission in the Army and is subject to call to active duty.

Wives of Two Diplomats Held By Soviet Agents

Russia Brands One
As Undesirable
After U. S. Protest

WASHINGTON (U.P.)—The United States has charged Russian agents with "mistreating" and "illegally detaining" the wives of two American diplomats during a picture-taking expedition Monday, the State Department announced early today.

It said the Soviet Foreign Office retaliated by branding one of the women, Mrs. Karl E. Sommerlatte, persona non grata or "undesirable." The move is equivalent to demanding that she leave Russia and is believed unprecedented for a woman attached to a U. S. Embassy.

The department did not describe the nature of the Russian complaint. But informed sources said the women were accused of "hooliganism" and one report said Mrs. Sommerlatte allegedly slapped a policeman.

For its part, the United States charged that "secret police agents" lured the women into a building and "forcibly" detained them for 90 minutes in violation of their diplomatic status.

Bohlen Protests

U. S. Ambassador Charles E. Bohlen filed a "strong diplomatic protest" with Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov. He also demanded that the "undesirable" label be removed from Mrs. Sommerlatte on the grounds the Russian version of the incident was in "flagrant contradiction of the facts."

Mrs. Sommerlatte, an attractive blonde, is the wife of the second secretary in the U. S. Embassy and a native of Wilmington, Del. The other woman, Mrs. Houston Stiff, is the wife of the assistant naval attaché, a Marine lieutenant colonel from La Jolla, Calif.

Their troubles began near the American Embassy Monday morning, the State Department said, when they asked a group of Russian women for permission to take their pictures.

When the women replied they didn't want any pictures taken, the department said the Americans "left the area without removing their camera from its case."

Led Into Building

"At this time," the department said, "two Soviet citizens dressed in civilian clothes indicated that there were some interesting subjects for photography on a small hill nearby and led the ladies into a club building."

"Mrs. Stiff and Mrs. Sommerlatte immediately recognized that there was nothing of interest in the building and attempted to leave. The two men whose subsequent action clearly showed them to be Soviet secret police agents, forcibly prevented the ladies from leaving the building although they both presented diplomatic identification cards."

Mrs. Stiff managed to reach a telephone to call her husband, the department said, but still the women were not released until after Sommerlatte arrived. Then, said the department, the police officers denied they used force to retain the women and refused to identify themselves.

Cold Moving Out
Of West in Wake
Of Heavy Snows

By United Press

The coldest weather of the season moved out of the West today in the wake of snows that piled up as high as 12 inches.

Temperatures skidded deep into the 20s in the Rocky Mountain states and Western Plains and got as low as 17 at Ely, Nev. Another cold mass dropped the mercury to 28 at Caribou, Maine.

The cold front created a temperature range of almost 50 degrees in Texas—from 28 at Dalt-hart to 75 at Galveston.

Ahead of the cold front light rains or drizzle spread from the Great Lakes through the north-eastern states.

The blanket of fog that shrouded the Midwest Tuesday was blamed for the crash of an Air Force F80 shooting jet near Bluffton, Ind., in which the pilot was killed.

Slippery highways and poor visibility caused scores of auto accidents, including one in which Sen. John Sparkman of Alabama, campaigning for Democratic candidates, suffered a cut knee near Evansville, Ind.

No Progress in Efforts to Settle A-Plants Dispute

OAK RIDGE, Tenn. (U.P.)—A federal mediator reported there has been no progress in efforts to settle a labor dispute involving atomic production workers at plants here and at Paducah, Ky.

Federal Mediator E. F. Hitchcock reported he had "no success" in a five-hour meeting with union and management officials Tuesday night.

No further session has been called but he plans to keep "in close touch with both sides during the day," Hitchcock said.

The 1,000 workers at Paducah and 3,500 here have rejected a wage increase offer for a third time.

On Saturday they will be free to call a strike that would shut down production of the nation's entire supply of uranium-235 for hydrogen and atomic weapons.

The members of the CIO Gas, Coke and Chemical Workers Union seek a 15-cent hourly wage increase. The Carbide and Carbon Chemicals Co., which operates the plants for the Atomic Energy Commission has offered 6 cents. The present scale is $1.58 to $2.40.

U. S. Joins Italy
In Relief for Flood Victims

SALERNO, Italy (U.P.)—The United States today joined the massive relief operation for victims of what is feared to be Italy's worst post-war flood disaster.

With nearly 400 persons officially listed as dead or missing and thousands homeless, U. S. Foreign Operations Administration Chief Harold Stassen announced in Rome that he has ordered that agency to "extend aid to the victims" of the Salerno flood.

The latest unofficial count put the dead from the flash floods that poured down from the coastal mountain ranges 30 miles above Naples at 279; with 170 others missing—a total of 449.

Official federal police figures listed 217 known dead and 170 missing—a total of 387.

Stassen and Mrs. Clare Boothe Luce, U. S. ambassador to Italy, met with Premier Mario Scelba shortly before the premier left by plane for the flood-stricken area.

Sunshine returned to the stricken coastal region around Salerno this morning to reveal new scenes of death, destruction and desolation.

The latest unofficial count put the dead at 275 with 170 missing for a total of 445.

Official federal police figures listed 209 known dead and 170 missing, for a total of 379. There were at least 150 injured.

The official toll was rising as reports started to roll in from areas isolated by the raging waters which swept out of the coastal mountains Tuesday morning.

The flood poured over a score of hamlets in the Salerno-Amalfi-Nocera Inferiore triangle while their inhabitants slept, a factor which added to the high toll.

Communities Wiped Out

So swift were the waters that they wiped out whole communities and wrecked others. Fishermen hauled bodies from the sea off Salerno.

There was tragedy everywhere, but aid came from every quarter.

The disaster far exceeded the Calabria floods of 1953 in which 83 were killed. In 1951, 273 were killed when the Po River flooded.

There were 5,000 reported homeless in Salerno alone, with many others in the surrounding areas. Hospitals overflowed with injured, while an improvised morgue was set up in a Salerno theater.

Utilities were wrecked and sewers were clogged, presenting a possible danger of epidemics.

Burglars Take Coffee, Cigarets,
Liquor in Breakins

DU QUOIN, Ill. (U.P.)—Burglars who committed four breakins in southern Illinois the past two nights will be well supplied with coffee, cigarettes and liquor.

State police here said three of the breakins were at Cobden Tuesday night. Five hundred pounds of coffee and 90 cartons of cigarettes were taken from Scott's store. Flamm's restaurant was burglarized of $200 and 20 cartons of cigarettes. An undetermined amount of whisky was taken from the Tip Top Tavern.

State police said it was not determined whether the same persons committed all three breakins or if there was any connection with a break-in at Robinson's Cafe at Whittington early Tuesday morning.

The Whittington burglars emptied beer cases and used them to carry off 100 fifths, 144 pints and 240 half pints of whisky, 50 pints of wine, 250 cans of soup and 50 cartons of cigarettes.

Eisenhower to Make Final Tour To Fight Apathy

Hopes to Stimulate Large Turnout
At Polls on Nov. 2

By LYLE C. WILSON

WASHINGTON (U.P.)—President Eisenhower said today he hopes to make a flying tour of about four cities Friday in an effort to stir the voters out of what he called apathy and stimulate a large turnout at the polls for the Nov. 2 elections.

Mr. Eisenhower told his news conference that because of a crowded schedule, Friday of this week would be the only day he could get away before the elections. He said he expects to make a definite decision about the trip within a few hours.

The President will not fly in a government plane, but use a chartered commercial craft. He will make a maximum of four stops which he did not identify. He will appear only at airports.

He said he would like to get out for at least one day and do a bit of stirring up, dramatizing his desire to get out a big vote.

He said he had received complaints of voter apathy, complaints which he does not understand and which he wants to remedy. Asked whether he thought this apathy stemmed from voter "disenchantment" with the administration program, the President with obvious displeasure shot back at his questioner what did the reporter expect him to answer.

Too Much Satisfaction

Mr. Eisenhower added that one reason for the voter apathy was, as he put it—the United States feels they have gotten what they want and why worry. There is too much satisfaction.

Other political highlights at the news conferences:

1. The President declined to predict the outcome of the elections Tuesday, saying the reporters know what he believes. He said he is working for something, believes in it and is continuing to work for it. Although declining to make a prediction, he said that on the other hand, he certainly could hope.

2. He said he would not regard the election Tuesday as a vote of confidence for or against him personally or his administration.

Mr. Eisenhower said that from many messages he had received from all over the country, he learned that the people will not put him in the election. That, he added, was the complaint from the Republican side in addition to the complaint of voter apathy.

Hard to Understand

As for voter apathy, the President said he finds it hard to understand because he is so preoccupied in working constantly for the aims of his administration.

Besides stirring up voter interest through a quick trip Friday, he said he would like to take such an opportunity to emphasize that a congressional election year is as important as an election year when the presidency is at stake.

New Plant to Locate in Ordill Area

CARTERSVILLE, Ill. (U.P.)—A new industrial plant employing 200 to 300 persons at the start with a potential employment of 3,000 will be located in the Ordill industrial area near here in the next few months, Frank Haske, executive vice president, Servosonic Instruments Co., St. Louis, said today.

Haske said the new organization is expected to start preparations for operation of the plant 30 days after appointment of a plant manager and his staff and depending on agreements reached with the Armed Forces.

Businessmen and other persons in the southern Illinois area will be asked to provide a building of 100,000 square feet for the plant on a lease-purchase agreement.

Haske said the new company will experiment in high altitude instruments for military and peace-time use. It also expects to do research connected with development of atomic energy.

Haske said the new company may be able to let subcontracts to smaller southern Illinois manufacturers.

Auto Stolen from Barham-Green Garage

An automobile was stolen during the night from inside the Barham-Green Ford agency on East Locust street.

The auto, a late model used Ford, officers said, was taken by burglars who broke the glass in the washroom and entered the garage building.

Besides taking the car the thieves pried open the money container of a soft drink machine and took approximately $10.

They also knocked the combination off a safe but could not get the safe open.

Both city and county officers investigated the break-in.

Kiwanis Awards Outstanding League Players

The summer baseball program, sponsored in Harrisburg by the Kiwanis club, was the main topic of discussion at the Kiwanis' meeting Tuesday evening.

Orval Nelson also spoke briefly during the meeting on the merits of a council-manager type of city government.

Ronnie Doerge, chairman of the Kiwanis baseball program, reviewed the summer-long program, introduced the supervisors and instructors and outstanding players from the four leagues were awarded gold cups in recognition of their performance and sportsmanship throughout the season.

Selected as outstanding were J. B. Henshaw, Kitty League; Bob Clark, III League; John Hatcher, American League; and Glendell Ewell, National League. Ewell is a catcher, the others pitchers.

Supervisors of league play and instructors in the baseball school were Clarence Owens, Stobart Abney, Harold Gulley, Raymond Sisk, Charley Nelson, Layman Partain and Morris Garner.

More Than 350 in Program

In reviewing the season, Mr. Doerge stated there were more than 200 games played, including 12 out-of-town and five preliminary games to adult Sunday afternoon contests. There were more than 350 boys participating, most of them playing at least two games each week. In addition to regular league games, this year a school of instruction was conducted, with large numbers of boys attending the various sessions.

Looking to the future, Doerge stated he was hoping for a bigger and better program next summer and stated "We are not trying to develop professional ball players, but our only purpose is to furnish supervised recreation for the boys and young men in Harrisburg. We want to give them wholesome activity during the summer months."

John Schork, president of the Kiwanis club, made the presentations to the outstanding players. In addition to the top four honored, it was announced that the following were given honorable mention—Joe Carnett and Don Gobin, Kitty League; Zan Hefner, III League; Trevor Whiteside, Jack Oze and Jerry Dowdy, American League; Kenneth Spurlock, Bill Harrison, Jim Howton, National League.

39 of 50 Capital
Newsmen Predict
Democratic Win

WASHINGTON (U.P.)—Thirty-nine out of 50 Washington correspondents queried in a pre-election poll have predicted that the Democrats will win control of Congress next Tuesday.

All but three think the Democrats will win a majority of the House. All but eleven believe the Democrats will win control of the Senate also.

The poll, conducted by Newsweek Magazine, showed the average of the 50 guesses was a net Democratic gain of 25 seats in the House. For the Senate, the forecasts averaged out to a net Democratic gain of 3 seats.

An NBC pre-election survey released tonight also predicted a Democratic victory in both houses of Congress. The survey predicted that the Democrats will win the Senate by 8 seats and the House by 20 to 30.

U. I. Trustees Vote To Boost Tuition

CHAMPAIGN (U.P.)—The University of Illinois Board of Trustees today approved a $91,750,000 operating budget request for 1955-56 and voted to boost tuition fees $15 a semester.

It was reliably reported that the board would postpone any action on appointing a new university president.

The board's action hikes tuition to $65 a semester for Illinois residents and $175 for non-residents. With other charges, total fees will be $90 for Illinoisans and $200 for others.

President Says This is Not Time For Big 4 Talks

Discusses Domestic,
Foreign Topics
At News Conference

WASHINGTON (U.P.)—President Eisenhower said today the growing strength and unity of the free world offers the best outlook for global peace in two years.

Mr. Eisenhower said the essentials of a peaceful future, despite the great menace of communism, are evident in the drawing together of the free world on the fundamental issues for preserving freedom.

He told his news conference firmly that this is not the time for big power talks at the top-level with Soviet Premier Georgi Malenkov.

But he said that when the appropriate time comes, and the Russians are sincere, we will talk with them or anyone else.

The President—at his first news conference in 10 weeks—ranged widely over domestic and foreign topics.

On other matters, the President:

1. Vigorously asserted that basic U. S. foreign policy must be bipartisan and non-partisan. But he conceded he knows of no way to keep it out of politics.

2. Defended an administration program to recruit new federal employees through the Republican Party and GOP senators and congressmen. He said it is designed to get the best people possible and get the selection as far away from the White House as possible.

Says Savings Can Be Made

3. Promised that savings can be made in national defense spending without damage to security, but expressed doubt it will be enough to permit any future considerable tax reductions.

4. Declared his complete faith that the interests of the government are adequately protected in the proposed Dixon-Yates power contract for private power in the TVA area.

5. Said Atty. Gen. Herbert Brownell Jr. is going forward with all strength available to obtain indictments and recover money in the Federal Housing Administration "windfall" scandals.

6. Disclosed that among the announced 2,926 security firms and resignations under his loyalty program, there were around 275 who held government jobs during the Republican administration.

7. Said he had assurances from his advisers that the drop in unemployment was not seasonal, but resulted from a genuine upturn in the national economy.

Marilyn is Granted Divorce

HOLLYWOOD (U.P.)—Actress Marilyn Monroe, America's favorite pin-up girl, won an uncontested divorce from Joe DiMaggio today. She testified before a judge that she treated her with "coldness and indifference."

The famed blond, her voice often breaking with emotion, told Santa Monica Superior Court Judge Orlando Rhodes that the former New York Yankee star was moody and even refused to allow her to have friends in their home.

Judge Rhodes granted the divorce after 15 minutes of testimony.

Miss Monroe, attired in a tight-fitting black wool suit with a plunging neckline, said "I voluntarily offered to give up my work in hopes that it would solve our problems—but it didn't change his attitude."

"I hoped to have out of my marriage love, warmth, affection and understanding," she said, "but the relationship was one of coldness and indifference."

Gene Barrett, a regular at Eldorado last year now playing with Carbondale high school, received lots of mention in a story of Carbondale's 34-0 victory over Pinckneyville last Friday.

Barrett, who had played at half-back previously this season, took over the quarterback slot, displaying some deceptive ball handlings, passed well and also carried the ball for good gains. One pass covered 22 yards, another was good for 47 and then came a 50 yard gainer.

Passing and more passing—that was the story of last Friday's Benton-Cairo football game at Benton, won by the home team 41-14. "Football filled the air in a game which probably saw more passing than any other played on the Benton field," wrote the Benton sports reporter. Cairo threw 27 and Benton 10, to account for the high total of 37 passes in one game.

J. C. Caroline continues to be the big man in the University of Illinois offense. In 70 ball carrying attempts this season he has an average of 5.1 yards and has scored 19 points for the Illini.

Bobby Graeff, the Murphysboro product in the Illini backfield, scored a TD Saturday against Syracuse and in four ball carrying tries has picked up 16 yards for a flat four yards per try average.

Minstrel at 66 to 1 Wins Sweepstakes

NEWMARKET, England — Lord Rosebery's Minstrel won the 114th Cambridgeshire Stakes today at Newmarket.

The Irish Sweepstakes are based on this race.

Queens Beeches was second and Marshal Ney third in the mile-and-an-eighth event for 3-year-olds.

Minstrel, a 66-1 shot, won by a neck.

The same margin separated the second and third horses.

Queens Beeches went off at 100-7 while Marshal Ney was a 10-1 shot.

Turk's Blood, Alphenhorn and Durante were joint favorites at 9-1 in the field of 36.

The Irish Sweepstakes based on the Cambridgeshire reached its highest subscription in history this year and 15 holders of tickets on today's winner will receive $150,000 each. Tickets on the second and third place horses will be worth $60,000 and $20,000 respectively.

The race also made up the final leg of Britain's autumn racing double. French Design won the Cesarewitch—first leg of the double—two weeks ago here. Those who coupled Minstrel with French Design also will make handsome profits.

It was one of the closest finishes in the history of the race.

OSU's Woody Hayes Named Coach of Week

By CARL LUNDQUIST
United Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK — When the grandstand quarterbacks telephone to complain at 4 a. m., his wife invites them to drop in for breakfast "so you can get it off your chest."

They used to gripe loud and long and the football gridiron was a coaches' graveyard.

Now instead they hoist their steins high and toast the man they think will put them in the Rose Bowl.

He's the United Press Coach of the Week, wily Woody Hayes of those battling Buckeyes from Ohio State.

It took the skeptics a while to accept the fact that he had built up a real power-house.

"Ohio State will fold," they'd say. "They'll choke up—Just like the Cleveland Indians."

How Hayes put the lie to those notions!

Two weeks ago against Iowa, leading 20-14 late in the final period, there was no quit in the Bucks as they stopped one drive on the five and another on the 11 in one of the most exciting games of the season. It was a different story last Saturday. Wisconsin, a mean calculating team, was ahead 7-3 in a battle of unbeaten giants. Time was running out when Ohio State made a shambles of the scrap by scoring four lightning touchdowns in nine minutes. The Badgers never knew what hit them.

"We didn't fire ourselves up for this game," he said. "We didn't have to. The team had pride in itself enough to go all out in both of those games."

Was he worried about a letdown Saturday when Ohio State takes on Northwestern, one of the weaker teams in the Big Ten?

"We don't talk and think like that," he snapped. "I know we won't let up. Our plans for the Northwestern game do not include losing."

Wife of Golf Pro Found Murdered

BURBANK, Calif. — The wife of golf professional George Von Elm was found murdered in a parked car today, police reported.

Burbank homicide investigators said the body of Mrs. Mary Von Elm was found in a car in the parking lot of a bar.

Officers questioned a man identified only as "a professional golfer" about the death.

Crowds Jam Parker Furniture Store At Open House

Crowds jammed inside and outside the Lloyd L. Parker Furniture store last night as approximately 3,000 persons visited the Harrisburg business' open house. An estimated 500 persons, seeing the throng on the outside waiting to get in, left without attending.

The visitors were conducted thru the entire store, with entertainment for them on three of the floors. Entertainers were Lucky LeRoy, who played and sang; Helen Ashell, Lorene Davis, George Brown and Mary Janette Parker, who played the piano and the Hammond electric organ; and Jim and Jean Duncan from Radio Station WGGH, Marion.

Refreshments of punch, cakes, mints and Cokes were served to those attending.

Little Richard Lloyd Parker, six-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Dick Parker, made an address of welcome to the children who visited the store.

There was such a large crowd on hand, it was announced today, that the Lloyd L. Parker store personnel did not get a chance to greet all the people individually as they would have liked to have done, but they hoped that everybody attending enjoyed themselves.

"Despite the crowds on hand, the entire event went off so orderly at all times that not a thing in the store was accidentally broke or damaged," a spokesman said.

The open house was held between 6:30 and 9:30 p. m.

Picking the Grid Winners IN THE Sport Parade

By OSCAR FRALEY
United Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK — Fraley's Folies and the weekend football "winners" — and please note the word is in quotes.

Game of the Week
Notre Dame over Navy — The Middles are really "up" for this one, and they have a high-scoring offense. But the Irish will be ready, too, and they'll be rolling in high gear.

The East
Army over Virginia—And there oughta be a law.

Penn State over Penn — No "hale" Pennsylvania.

West Virginia over Pitt — This club can go.

Colgate over Princeton — All the way now.

Also: Cornell over Columbia, Yale over Dartmouth, Brown over Lehigh, Holy Cross over Syracuse, Boston U. over Bucknell, Boston College over Xavier, Temple over Rutgers, Harvard over Ohio U.

The Midwest
Ohio State over Northwestern — Too many horses.

Oregon over Washington—Possible upset.

Iowa over Wisconsin—The blue plate special.

Michigan over Indiana—Rolling strong.

Purdue over Illinois—Too much line.

Also: Minnesota over Michigan State, Missouri over Nebraska, Kansas State over Kansas, Iowa State over Drake, Marquette over Detroit, Houston over Wichita and Cincinnati over COP.

The West
UCLA over California—Too much offense.

USC over Oregon State — Don't even need a horse.

Oregon over Washington—Possible upset.

Stanford over Washington State — Back on the track.

Also: Montana over Colorado Aggies, Brigham Young over Utah State, Denver over New Mexico and Utah over Idaho.

The South
Duke over Georgia Tech—A right rough ball game.

Maryland over South Carolina—Not by much.

Alabama over Georgia — They were looking to this last week.

Auburn over Tulane—No scoring punch.

Also: Clemson over Wake Forest, Mississippi over LSU, Tennessee over North Carolina, Miami over Fordham, Florida over Mississippi State, VPI over W&M, Kentucky over Villanova, North Carolina State over Furman and George Washington over Richmond.

The Southwest
Arkansas over Texas Aggies — But they can't let down.

Baylor over TCU — Against the odds on potential.

Rice over Vanderbilt — With fair ease.

Texas over SMU—But they have to bounce real high.

Stevenson Hits Campaign of Slurs, Slander

NEW YORK (UPI)—Adlai E. Stevenson predicted Tuesday night the Republicans will lose control of Congress in Tuesday's elections because they have displayed a "genius for mismanagement" and resorted to a campaign of "character assassination, slurs and slanders."

Jones Addresses Republican Rally at Galatia

"When we get around to the subject of unemployment we must look at the facts and figures, not mere opinions of politicians," State's Attorney Glen O. Jones told a large gathering at the Galatia grade school Tuesday night.

Speaking at the sixth county Republican campaign rally, Jones stated that the Eisenhower administration had nothing to do with the building of the "Big Inch" pipeline, which has caused a reduction in the coal markets in this area. "The pipeline was built during the Demo administration, and sold by the government to private enterprise in 1947, at a fraction of its cost," Jones said.

Jones pointed out that there are 2,599,000 unemployed today, compared with 4,684,000 in 1950 and 3,864,000 in 1952 before Eisenhower was elected President. "And on top of that we aren't in the midst of a war today, as we were when people elected Eisenhower," he added.

The speaker pointed out that Paul Douglas, Democratic candidate for re-election to the Senate, is crying hard times, "but the figures show that Ike has put us back on a peace-time economy, which is getting better all over the country."

State's Attorney Jones stated that the present administration has had only 20 months to repair damage that was compiled over a period of 20 years. "It would be unfair for us to send the President a Democratic Congress this next January and then expect him to clean up the confusion he inherited in Washington."

Jones, candidate for state senator, delivered the main address at Galatia, and Judge L. M. Hancock introduced the remainder of

Mrs. Charles Lockwood Entertains Good Neighbor Club

Mrs. Charles Lockwood entertained the Good Neighbor club Wednesday afternoon with 100 per cent in attendance. The roll call was answered with a verse of scripture.

Mrs. Lee Allen led the group in the opening song and Mrs. Clifford Hafford offered prayer.

Officers for the next six months were elected as follows: President, Mrs. George Bond; vice president, Mrs. John C. Small; secretary, Mrs. A. J. Drott; and treasurer, Mrs. A. P. Golliver.

Mrs. Drott received the door prize, and game prizes were awarded to Mesdames Lee Allen, George Bond, Paul Drott and Miss Mary Margaret Small.

Mrs. Flossie Land won the contest of guessing the chicken salad sandwiches, rookies and a drink to 14 members and four children.

The November meeting will be with Mrs. Herman Malone.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Schaeve of Kankakee were overnight guests of the John C. Small family Tuesday. Schaeve and Joe Small were both members of the class of 1950 at the University of Illinois. The Schaeves were touring southern Illinois, Kentucky and Indiana on a two weeks' vacation.

The Supper club's farewell party for Mrs. Flossie Land was held Friday evening at the John C. Small home. It was also the 42nd wedding anniversary for Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lockwood. The club members gave Mrs. Land a going away gift. Others attending were Mr. and Mrs. Otto Henn. Mrs. Henn has just recently been attending public functions since her auto accident three months ago.

Rev. Vola Sittig, pastor of Union Chapel church, and the members cordially invite the public to attend their revival which began Sunday night. Rev. Sittig does the preaching and L. L. Riegel leads the singing.

A number from this area attended the Odd Fellows and Rebekah dinner Sunday. The total attendance was reported as 160.

Neighbors extend sympathy to the families of Mrs. Ella Hall and David Barnes who recently passed away.

Adenauer Praised as One of Great Statesmen of Our Time by Eisenhower

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower today praised West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer as one of the great statesmen of our time.

The President at his news conference expressed tremendous satisfaction that Adenauer is coming to this country. Adenauer, who arrives this afternoon, will spend two days here.

Mr. Eisenhower said he considers the free German leader one of the best informed men on Western European affairs. He added that Adenauer has good sense and is dedicated to the peace of the world.

Adenauer is coming here for talks on thwarting any spectacular Russian moves to upset Allied accords on rearming West Germany.

The 78-year-old German leader who fought Hitler as he now fights Communism, will be greeted at Washington National Airport by Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, a long-time Adenauer admirer. Friendly but secret talks will get underway Thursday at the White House and the State Department.

Red Move Predicted

The Adenauer visit coincided with the disclosure here that the Russians are testing a new series of "nuclear explosives." Diplomats suggested that the Russians may hope, among other things, that the tests will help promote German opposition to the new German rearmament agreements. But Adenauer is not easily intimidated.

There is feeling here that the Russians will come up with some spectacular move to try to unify Germany. This theory is based partly on the "sterility" of Moscow's latest moves and the importance of Germany to the Russians.

Bolstered by his newly negotiated friendship with the West, Adenauer is believed certain to line up with the United States, Britain and France in opposing new talks with the Russians until the Paris pacts are ratified sometime early next year, if all goes well.

The WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND By DREW PEARSON

DREW PEARSON Says:
Charley Skouras Loved His Adopted Country; Floridians
Exonerated Jim Haley.

WASHINGTON. — A guy who really loved America died the other day. He wasn't born here, but which may have been why he chose to live in the country he loved. Anyway, when Charley Skouras, a 19-year-old immigrant, came here from Greece, the United States gave him opportunities, and he made the most of them,
rising from a busboy in a hash house to the biggest theatre-owner in the nation.

But though he rose to fame and fortune, Charley Skouras never forgot his fellow men or the obligation he owed the country of opportunity. Most of his money — and he made a lot of it — went back into taxes or to charity. He helped build the $200,000 Variety Boys Club in Los Angeles, promoted Brotherhood Week, built the Cathedral of St. Sophia in Los Angeles.

This writer got to know Charley Skouras when we were organizing the Friendship Train in 1947. Charley had called in his theatre publicity men, told them to go all out to promote the Friendship Train from the theatres along the route.
"But boss," spoke up one of them, "we're just opening with 'Forever Amber.' It's a million-dollar picture. We can't plug that and this train at the same time."
"Which is more important," shot back the onetime immigrant boy from Greece. "'Forever Amber' or your country?"

CIRCUS FIRE HELPED CONGRESS
Though the House of Representatives is frequently referred to as a circus, not many people know that one of the top circus men of America is a member.

He is Jim Haley, a tall, quiet, slab-sided sort of man who came to Sarasota, Fla., from Alabama thirty years ago without a nickel in his pocket and worked his way up to the top of Ringling Brothers and Barnum & Bailey, the greatest show on earth.

Then, having become general manager and vice president, disaster struck the circus—disaster in the form of a fire at Hartford, Conn., in which a stampeding, fear-maddened crowd killed women and children.

For months afterward, Jim Haley went around the lot with a haunted look, remembering that day. He lost 20 pounds, looked as if he were dying by inches. But after he had launched the circus for the 1945 season and began to pay back the several million dollars in damages fixed by a Connecticut court, Jim went up to Hartford to serve the jail sentence which the court had also given him.

The people down in Florida,
however, knew Jim Haley better than this. They knew he was not responsible for that fire. He was the financial manager at the time, only happened to be in Hartford by accident. So they figured he took the rap. They also knew all the fine things he had done for their community. And when western Florida, which has shot ahead population-wise, was given a new congressional district, they sent Jim Haley to Congress.

Douglas Fought by Selfish Interests, Kefauver Claims

PEORIA, Ill. — Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn.) said today that "selfish interests" have marked Sen. Paul H. Douglas (D-Ill.) "for liquidation as their No. 1 target."
Kefauver, in remarks prepared for a Citizens-for-Douglas luncheon here, said Douglas' opponent, Joseph T. Meek, had arranged for a "smear sheet" which Kefauver said has been issued against Douglas.

"I tell you from the depth of my heart, this character assassination ought to be rewarded by the most resounding defeat in history," Kefauver said. "There is only one answer to such tactics: Complete, utter defeat and repudiation, by Republicans and Democrats alike."

Kefauver said Meek, personally endorsed by President Eisenhower, would be another "yes vote for the power lobby."

Kefauver said Douglas would help fight the Dixon-Yates contract, "one of the most barefaced giveaways," which he said would cost the taxpayers 140 million dollars as a "straight-out gift" to the private utility combine.

Dock Strike Causes Lay Offs in Britain

LONDON — British factories began ordering lay-offs of their workers today because of the effects of the nation-wide dock strike.

The walkout, now in its fourth week, has choked off both the flow of raw materials to the factories and exports of finished products.
The National Dock Labor Board said 43,232 men and 340 ships were idle today. This was 180 men and four ships less than Tuesday.

Nearly 252 million dollars worth of food and raw material imports and nearly 196 million dollars worth of manufactured exports have been held up, the Ministry of Labor reported.

The St. Lawrence River, in its ice-free season, handles nearly

Eisenhower Takes Second Place to Anthony Eden as Best-Hatted Man

By HARMON W. NICHOLS
United Press Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON — Dwight D.
Eisenhower, our leader, has to take second place in this year's selection of the best-hatted men of the world.

Mr. Eisenhower is bowing out to the Rt. Hon. Robert Anthony Eden, deputy prime minister of Great Britain. It's kind of a shame, actually, because the President made the Homburg people a lot of money. Innocently, of course. The Homburg folks are sorry about the

the way it is.

Organization of Senate is at Stake in Election Next Week

By LYLE C. WILSON
United Press Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON — Thirty-seven senators and 432 members of the House of Representatives will be elected next week to complete the membership of the 84th Congress.

Sen. Margaret Chase Smith, Republican, and three Republican House members were elected in Maine last September. Maine also elected a Democratic governor, Edward S. Muskie.

Republicans have acknowledged a Democratic trend in some areas and various polls reflect such a condition. The poll consensus seems to be that the Democrats are likely to win control of both the House and Senate.

The expiring 83rd Congress was elected with President Eisenhower who ran far ahead of his congressional ticket. At the opening of the 83rd Congress in January, 1953, Republicans had merely courtesy control in the Senate and a small actual margin in the House. The division was:

Senate: Republicans, 48, Democrats 47, independent 1.
House: Republicans 221, Democrats 212, independent 1, vacant 1.
The division in the 83rd Congress
as it ends:

Senate: Republicans 49, Democrats 46, independent 1.
House: Republicans 218, Democrats 212, independent 1, vacant 4.

Morse to Vote Democrat
Independent Sen. Wayne Morse of Oregon did not vote against Republican organization of the Senate in January, 1953, but he has announced that he will vote next January with the Democrats on organization of the Senate of the 84th Congress. Democrats, therefore, need pick up only two Senate seats to obtain an organizational majority of 49. They need six more House seats for an organizational majority in the 84th Congress.

By organization is meant the election of the speaker in the House and the president pro temporis in the Senate and all committee chairmen. The organizing party also determines the number of majority and minority members of all committees. The clerk of the House and the secretary of the Senate along with lesser servants of the legislative branch also are chosen by the party with the majority of votes in either chamber.

The Senate president pro temporis is not a powerful legislative official. But the party holding the speakership and the committee chairmanships of Congress possess tremendous powers. Those officials can make or break a legislative program whether it be offered by a president of their own political faith or an opposition president.

Nixon Still Senate President Regardless of the outcome of next week's election, Vice President Richard M. Nixon will continue to be the presiding officer of the Senate.

Of the 37 Senate seats up next week, 15 are now held by Republicans and 22 by Democrats. But five Democratic candidates in the South have no Republican opposition. One of the five, Edgar A.
Brown, is opposed in South Carolina by another Democrat, J. Strom Thurmond, a write-in, conservative, candidate.

Of the 32 remaining contested Senate seats, the Democrats need to win 20 to come up with a bare majority of 49 in the 84th Congress.
But with Morse's help they could win only 19 and still organize the Senate. The Republicans require 14 victories among the 32 contests to hold Senate control.

There are 71 unopposed Democratic candidates for the House and two unopposed Republicans, Rep. Leo E. Allen of Illinois and Rep. Edith Nourse Rogers of Massachusetts.

Raymond "Pete" Gardner was born and reared in Saline County, the son of J. L. Gardner, retired coal miner. Pete attended the Beulah Heights elementary school and graduated from the Eldorado Township High School. While in attendance at Eldorado Township High School he was noted for his outstanding ability as a basketball player.

Following graduation from high school, Mr. Gardner attended Southern Illinois Normal University. He holds the Bachelor of Education degree and M. S. in Education degree granted by Southern Illinois University. Mr. Gardner was honored while attending Southern Illinois University by being chosen as captain of the University basketball team and selected as a forward on the All-Conference team.

Mr. Gardner's first teaching jobs were in the Harco and Beulah Heights elementary schools. His secondary school experience includes two years teaching and coaching in the McLeansboro High School and six years teaching and coaching in the Eldorado Township High School. Mr. Gardner is now principal of the Galatia Community High School.

Mr. Gardner is married to the former Elaine Baugher. They have three children, Brian age 12, Carol Ann age 10 and John Paul age 8.

Mr. Gardner is a Mason, member of the Methodist church and was active in the Rotary Club and Chamber of Commerce as a citizen of Eldorado. He continues his civic interest in Galatia. Mr. Gardner is past president of the Saline County Teachers' Association.

picking the best-hatted men in the world.

So first place, and possibly a new $100 hat goes to Eden.

In second spot is our leader, Mr. Eisenhower, who is "a prolific wearer of both conservative and sports headgear."

Rail Tycoon Third
Next comes Robert R. Young, the railroad man. The rail tycoon owns almost as many hats as he does locomotives and freight cars. And then comes Brig. Gen. David Sarnoff, a business executive and prominent world figure, "who believes in wearing the proper hat at the right time."

Robert Taylor is number five. The actor has "one of the most pretentious hat wardrobes in Hollywood."

Then we come to boxer Rocky Marciano, who trains in a head-gear which looks like a football helmet. But when he steps out of the ring, showers and goes out for an evening with his lovely wife, he is well-topped.

Harry S. Truman, who used to be our leader, has slipped to seventh place. He used to crease his hats in a crazy manner, but somehow lost the touch when he became citizen No. 1 after his move to Independence, Mo.

Jack Webb is in 8th place. The "I'm a cop" guy in television, snaps a snappy brim.

Lodge Makes List
John Cabot Lodge, the scion and statesman, is conservative in his election of toppers and that rested him in slot number nine.

The Duke of Edinburgh winds up the list.

The honorable mentions include John Foster Dulles, Gov. Allan Shivers, Sammy Sneed, Walter Winchell, Clement Attlee, Conrad Hilton, Robert Morley, Jimmy Durante, who can abuse a hat better than almost anybody, and Mayor Robert Wagner.

Hat stylist Rolnick contends that a man without a hat is a man who loses his individual personality. . . . And that is why Vice President Richard M. Nixon was left out of the list of even honorable mentions. "That fellow Nixon seldom wears a hat at all," said Rolnick. "That's unthinkable!"

AUTUMN TOUR SITE—Two-story shelter bluff visited by a caravan of southern Illinois "explorers" on the first of the October Sunday tours. This unusual rock formation is two miles south of the Water Valley forestry tower, southeast of Giant City state park and northeast of Cobden. The fourth tour, held last Sunday, was enjoyed by 150 people and left Harrisburg that morning. The fifth Sunday tour will be held Sunday and will begin at Lick Creek, east of Vienna, about 9 a. m. (Foster Studio Photo)

43 Cars In Caravan for Fourth Sunday Autumn Tour of Scenic Places

Forty-three cars formed the caravan of the fourth autumn auto tour which left Harrisburg Sunday. One family from Clayton, Mo., had come down the night before to stay at a motel. This was the fourth straight Sunday of perfect weather for enjoying the fall colors in the Shawnee National Forest and the Illinois Ozarks.

The caravan stretched out over Winkelman Hill south of Harrisburg into Big Saline Valley and up over sections of the newly paved highway to Delwood. The first stop was at Burden Falls. The wild rustic beauty of the canyon below was a new experience for most of the tourists.

At Bell Smith Springs parking area there were several more cars. At the foot of the stone stairway there was the pleasant surprise of a rural church congregation from Knight's Prairie near Fairfield. It was a rare benediction to hear Rev. McNally of Princeton, Ind., in his words of praise for the creator of the surrounding beauty and wonder.

Children Enthusiastic

After individual group lunches, the visitors marveled at the massive structure of the great natural bridge. The younger tourists scrambled up the iron rungs to the top here and at the natural balconies and the other stone stairs above the big swimming pool. Others exclaimed at the rich colors of the autumn foliage.

At the camp-site of prehistoric man by Clarida Springs below the Indian Ladder, the children of the tour were especially enthusiastic. Some found shiny bits of flint and a few picked up large pieces of flint tools probably used for scraping hides. There was interest in the stone mortar and grooves left in the table of sandstone where Indians had apparently sharpened their stone axes.

At Money Cave, the travelers peered at the pictograph on the ceiling and pondered over the possible meaning of the circle with the arrow pointing southwest and the intricate figures drawn within the circle. Perhaps this oldest road sign meant as much to an earlier race as ours do today.

89-Year-Old Man on Tour

Boys were becoming proficient in blowing the fox horn and preparing for the time that they will lead similar tours. Little girls delighted in showing their wood craft by leading older persons over the rough spots. (One man was 89 years old). They were as eager as baby chicks flocking to each new point of interest.

Late in the afternoon, many of the cars from greater distances reluctantly turned homeward. Others traveled over the Trigg Memorial Ozark Trail to look from Williams Hill Tower, the highest point in southern Illinois. Even the dust of the newly graveled road had not dimmed their view. One woman said it was the most beautiful road she had seen.

Even after dark at the Old Iron Furnace enthusiasm was high with the tourists examining the structure by flashlight and searching among the leaves for pieces of ore-

Walnut Grove Baptist Congregation Complete New Church; Dedication Sunday

Members of the congregation of the Walnut Grove Baptist church have accomplished a complete rebuilding program in approximately 10 months and it is with mixed feelings of pride and thankfulness that they discuss this achievement.

On Sunday afternoon, Jan. 17, members stood helplessly by and watched their place of worship completely destroyed by fire. The building and all its contents — pews, hymn books, pulpit, everything — were burned.

Now the building has been replaced with a neat, white frame and concrete block building, and has been completely refurnished upstairs and down. The new construction includes a basement and furnace heat, something the old building didn't have.

Used School Building

At the time of the fire last January, it was stated that a decision to rebuild was made while the members watched the fire destroy the church, but plans also had to be completed for a place to worship during the rebuilding program. The nearby Walnut Grove school building was available and bearing rock and glassy black slag. At the last there was still a car from Granite City and another man who had worked the night before with only an hour and a half of sleep.

(Wayman Presley will lead next Sunday's tour, open to all who wish to join.)

has been used the past several months.

The dedication program proper will be held Sunday afternoon, with Dr. Noel Taylor, executive secretary of the Illinois Baptist State association, preaching the sermon. There will be regular services throughout the day. There will be dinner at noon in the basement.

Rev. Charley Evitts, who makes his home at Galatia, is pastor of the church and former pastors and friends of the church are being invited to participate in the various services Sunday.

The Walnut Grove Baptist church was organized Jan. 27, 1880, with eight charter members and has continued to serve the spiritual needs of the community continuously. The first minister was Dr. John Blanchard.

Membership of About 180

At present there is a member of the church who at one time served as pastor. Tom Cook, who lives near the church, was baptized and joined the church 55 years ago, and was later ordained as a deacon, still later was ordained as a pastor and served his home church from 1941 to 1946.

The oldest active member in point of membership is Mrs. Ida Rude, who was baptized and became a member 57 years ago. Present deacons for the church, with a membership of about 180, are Oway Bush and George Sherfield. Tom Easley is Sunday school superintendent. The church has a full program of Sunday school, Sunday morning and evening worship, Brotherhood and midweek prayer service.

This will be the third dedication for members of the Walnut Grove Baptist church as two buildings have been destroyed by fire. In 1932 the original building was burned to the ground.

Services have been held in the new building all this month, with the first service conducted Sunday, Oct. 3.

All members and friends are invited to attend any and all services of the church next Sunday, Oct. 31. To reach the church go south on Route 24 to the Pierson school, a distance of about 4 miles from Harrisburg, then turn west on the good gravel road and it is about a mile to the church.

Tongue Has Blind Taste Moments

NEWARK, N. J. — Your tongue is not as sensitive as you think. It has its blind spots.

What's more, it can get awfully confused when confronted with meals combining bitter, sweet, salty and sour flavors, according to Phil Kratz, chief research chemist for a local beverage concern. Kratz reports that the center part of the tongue is insensitive to most taste sensations. The rest of the tongue is divided into small taste buds, reacting to one or two flavors but taste-blind to the others.

When a dish has too much of a particular flavor, the taste buds which react to it actually get tired and doze off for half a minute or so. For example, Kratz explained, the "fatigued" buds won't register the sweetness of a sweet dish at that point, leaving the other taste buds a clear field to pick up the secondary flavor elements present, if any.

So, if your dessert suddenly tastes less sweet than it did at first, don't bite your wife. Hold your tongue, count to at least 10 and then try another bite.

WALNUT GROVE BAPTIST CHURCH will be dedicated Sunday, Oct. 31. The new church building, replacing one destroyed by fire Jan. 17 of this year, is 30 by 50 feet, with full basement. The newly constructed building is very much like the one that burned, with the exception of the addition of the basement and the building now faces the north, while the old one faced east. Farm Problems Discussed At Mt. Vernon

What southern Illinois farmers are thinking about national, state and local problems this year was revealed at Mt. Vernon in the first area report meeting of the Illinois Agricultural Association's policy development program.

The report meeting is a follow-up for a series of township and neighborhood gatherings conducted by local farmers all over Illinois during October. Four more report meetings will be held this week in Champaign, Jacksonville, Galesburg, and DeKalb.

Otto Steffey, vice president of the state-wide Farm Bureau organization and chairman of the meeting, explained that the program is to help determine what resolutions shall be placed before the voting delegates at the IAA's annual meeting in Chicago Nov. 15-18.

While the reports are advisory, they will help the tentative resolutions committee write its final report, Steffey told farmers at the meeting.

Seventy-four leaders here reported local and state issues and marketing problems are foremost in farmers' thinking.

Township and county road problems, senatorial reapportionment, teacher tenure, water use, and a clean up of comic books were high on the list of topics given space in the 30 county reports.

The new Social Security law as it relates to farmers came in for discussion in each of the counties. Most reports favored making the law optional. "We believe in the right of a minority to refuse government assistance," said one.

Typical of about two-thirds of the counties in this area, Washington county reported a prevailing sentiment for increased federal appropriations for agricultural research and education. Some of the farmers wanted emphasis placed on marketing and packaging research.

While generally quiet on national farm policy, most counties touched on this field with recommendations similar to this one from Jefferson county: "Diverted acres should not be placed in the basic commodity crops and should be placed in the soil fertility bank program."

New Knitwear Styles are Flattering

There's a changing audience for the knit dress these days. It's designed for the slim, young figure and for the half-size figure, too. We show (left) the convertible knit in one-piece scoop neck dress with removable turtle neck dickey. This is a dress that can go to the office, then on to dinner. Skirt is flared. Paisley-patterned knit dress (center) has basic jewelry neckline, batwing sleeve. For the woman who is five feet five or under, there's the half-size knit (right). This is an after-five dress with scoop neckline and tiny sleeves, covered by a waistlength cardigan for daytime wear. All three designs are from Joseph Guttman.

Vota Vita Class Has Halloween Party

The Vota Vita class of the Dorrisville Baptist church met Thursday evening at the home of the teacher, Mrs. Alma Dunn, for a Halloween party and regular social.

New officers were elected for the new year and names drawn for mystery pals.

Mrs. Dunn gave the devotion which was closed with prayer by Mrs. Regina Duke.

Prizes were won by Mrs. Myrtle McClusky and Mrs. Mary Logsdon. Delicious refreshments were served to Mrs. Loudene Day, Mrs. Regina Duke, Mrs. Myrtle McClusky, Miss Joy Randolph, Mrs. Mary Logsdon and the hostess, Mrs. Alma Dunn.

The next meeting will be at the home of Miss Randolph.

Mrs. Ownly Furman Hostess To Presbyterian Lenore Circle

Mrs. Ownly Furman was hostess Monday evening to 14 members and two guests of the Lenore circle of the Presbyterian church.

Mrs. Stella Brashears, chairman, turned the meeting over to Miss Lelle Anderson, program chairman, who in turn presented Mrs. Steve Farrar, who gave the Year Book of Prayer devotion. She used as her subject "Without," mentioning a number of things the people of the world are "without," and closing with prayer by several members of the group for the missionaries and mission stations for the day.

Miss Edith Morrison had the Bible lesson, telling of a "Happy Church" as described in the book of Acts, and led in the group discussion following.

Miss Julia Williamson's talk on India and Pakistan was interesting and informative, the high lights of which covered the causes for the great poverty in those countries.

During the business following the program, announcement was made of the World Community Day program, sponsored by the Harrisburg Council of Church Women, to be held in the Presbyterian church Nov. 5, and the circle voted to buy a blanket to be given at that time for shipment overseas and any members who had blankets they would like to give, either old or new, were asked to bring them to the church that night.

During the social hour following, delicious refreshments of lime sherbet, homemade cookies and cranberry tea were served to the following, not previously mentioned: Mrs. Silas Anderson, Mrs. Harry Barter, Mrs. Mildred Boicourt, Ada Cable, Gladys Gaskins, Juanita Joiner, Mrs. Nelle Meyers, Mary Morrison, Jean Selby, and Mrs. Clyde Pittman, a former member, and Mrs. Scerrial Thompson, guests.

Dr. and Mrs. Arthur Franks Attend Officers Reunion

Dr. and Mrs. Arthur Franks returned Sunday night from Chicago where they attended a reunion of several naval officers who had been aboard the ship, U.S.S. Enterprise, during World War II.

The affair was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Howard in Winnetka. This was the third reunion of the officers, but the first one for the Franks to attend.

Marshall Field Jr. and Walter Cushman were hosts to the first and second reunions which were also held in Chicago.

Dr. Franks stated that on Sunday afternoon several of the men were speaking of John Flood, Lambertville, N. J., whom none of them had seen in over ten years.

The valve-in-head V-8 as only the valve-in-head leader can build it!

8

Now Chevrolet, the leading builder of valve-in-head engines, introduces the "Turbo-Fire V8." It carries the V8 design to a new high in efficiency with its high horsepower (162), high-compression (8 to 1), high performance and surprisingly high gas mileage. Available with standard transmission, or with the extra-cost options of Overdrive or Powerglide.

You can choose from two new sixes, too!

Chevrolet also offers the last word in six-cylinder performance and economy! There's a new "Blue-Flame 136" teamed with Powerglide and a new "Blue-Flame 123" with either standard transmission or Overdrive.

Can't you tell just by looking that Chevrolet and General Motors have come up with a completely new idea about the low-priced car? The idea is this: to build a car that offers the very newest thing in styling, the most modern features, the finest kind of performance and the highest quality of manufacture—all at a modest price. It's something that took a lot of doing and that only the world's leading car builders could do. Everything's new in this Motoramic Chevrolet from its lower top right down to its tubeless tires. The Argyle Hotel was closed and locked. Jim pounded on the glass-paneled front door. He could make out the dim figure of Toby Argyle sitting alone at a back table. Toby looked around, made a vague gesture of dismissal. He got up when Dunn kept up his racket.

Toby opened the door a crack and apparently came to the conclusion that since he had gone so far he might as well go farther. He swung the door wide, said, "Come on in then. We're closed up though." He walked the full length of the building and sat down again at his chosen table.

Jim shut and relocked the door, followed. He sat down at the little table. "I'm very sorry about your daughter, Mr. Argyle."

That had the desired effect, penetrated the whisky haze for a moment. "Sorry? So you know. That's right. I remember now. Aggie phoned and said you knew. Said you might be along to see me. I'm to cooperate. Mrs. Oswald said so. What you want?"

"A couple of things," Jim said. "First, did you deliver any pitch wood to the Carlson place recently?"

"Never did," Toby said. "Tried to once or twice. Old Mrs. Oswald she wouldn't have any pitch around. Wanted nothing but dry pine and maybe a little heavy aspen. Says pitch is too dirty."

"About your daughter," Jim said quickly. "Tell me, did you or your wife ever give her a doll?"

Two fat tears rolled down Toby's face. "We never gave her anything. Except away. That's it. We didn't have her long enough, and we didn't have anything anyway. No, all we gave Angelica was away."

Agnes could have given the daughter a doll without Toby's knowing. But Argyle had been insistent there was no gift.

Jim turned that thought over in his mind as he drove through the sagging wings of the wrecked gate.

He wondered what his hurry was, decided he had better give up the practice of automatic driving, particularly on mountain roads. It wasn't like him to drive so fast, even though he had been thinking of other things.

It came to him suddenly that there was an increasing tension, an irrational, yet insistent demand for speed.

He gave in to it, drove as fast as he dared. He zoomed past the fork in the road, rushed across the last of the level ground and skidded into the first turn of the road down to the Carlson Castle. He slammed gears into low, used both acceleration and the steady power of compression to negotiate the hairpin turns.

His tires slid and left marks as he slammed on the brakes at last in the Carlson driveway. Puma Lake rippled in the faint wind which preceded the daily thunderstorm. Philip and Mrs. Hilton sat on one corner of the glassed-in patio, sipping from tall glasses. Agnes Argyle walked out to greet him.

Jim relaxed. Nothing was wrong. Nothing could be wrong. He started framing a question for Agnes.

But the woman was looking past him, looking for something, looking for someone.

"Where's your wife?" Sheriff Agnes asked.

"Nancy? What do you mean? Isn't she here?"

"No. Don't see how you missed her though. She started off about an hour ago. Said she was going to take a walk and meet you on your way back."

The now familiar road up toward the plateau had never seemed so long. Each bend held a hope that Jim would find Nancy sitting comfortably on some rock, each empty bend exploded that hope. He cursed himself for the speed with which he had whipped along in his most recent trip. There was a possibility he had passed Nancy.

A possibility, but a very slim one indeed.

He reached level ground, drove more slowly along the curves which twisted toward the fork in the road. The apparent evenness of the plateau's surface was deceptive. Jim knew a small army could have been hidden in imperceptible folds and gullies. He stopped, got out at the fork. He called, and his voice was tiny in the empty space. Yet there was a path of small footprints leading down toward The Spires. Only Nancy had small enough feet to make those marks in the dust.

Jim felt a little better. Aside from Sheriff Agnes' pickup which was parked at the Castle, his jeep was the only car available at the Carlsons', for no servant had as yet returned with another vehicle. And there was no sign of other prints. He would find Nancy safely in the company of the irritable deputy. He drove down the road quickly, left the jeep at the lake-side.

Both the deputy and his car were gone.

The Spires was deserted, doors now locked tightly. The honey-moon cottage Nancy had liked so much was tightly closed; it had a forlorn and empty air as if disappointed at this latest desertion.

He called again, and the slight touch of fear in his voice frightened him still more.

He drove more slowly back up the road, looking over each inch of the nearby rocky ground. At the wide part, where Mrs. Oswald had caught her trout, nearly to the point where the creek gushed from the high arch in the rock, he caught the glint of sun on metal.

Rising Executive
Makes Move at 41

PITTSBURGH —The business executive destined for high places probably will begin to make his move to the top at the age of about 41.

This successful man is most likely to stand five feet, 10 inches in height and weigh about 180 pounds. In all probability he is the head of a family that includes "one-and-a-half children."

This composite picture of the promising executive is furnished by C. L. Van Sickle, professor of accounting at the University of Pittsburgh, who since 1949 has been coordinator of an intensive, eight-week course in management problems for executives.

The more than 600 executives from all over the world who have taken the course were chosen by their firms for outstanding success in their specialties, indicating their readiness to take on bigger jobs.

In the early sessions of the course, the average age was 39, according to Van Sickle. This year, the average was 43, with the age range from the early 30's to the mid-50's.

The statistical executive drawn by Van Sickle usually makes about $13,000 a year, but his salary may be as much as $25,000. He has been with his company about 20 years and in his present job about four years.

Gold Standard Still Holds for Eyeglasses

ROCHESTER, N. Y. (AP) — The United States has never gone off the gold standard so far as eyeglasses are concerned.

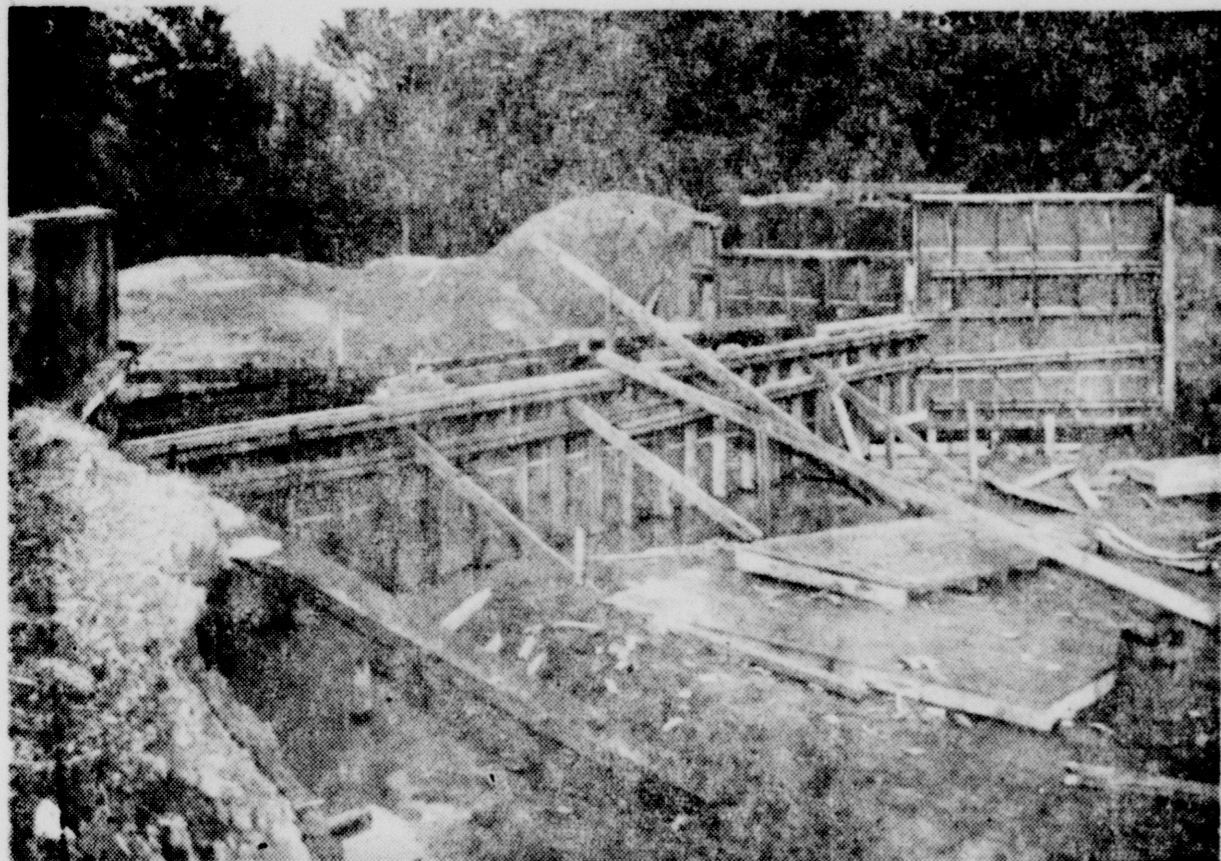

This nation probably is the world's greatest user of gold in eyewear manufacturing.

Gold is considered essential by eyewear makers because of its non-fading qualities, durability and cosmetic value, according to stylists of a local optical (Shuron) company. Alloyed with other metals, it can be colored in several flattering shades and it is virtually indestructible.

Most types of American eyewear use some gold. Today, gold filled frames are staging a comeback in stylish glasses for both men and women, the experts report.

A coffee tree does not yield its first crop until five years after planting and then only at a rate of about one and one-half pounds of roasted coffee every 12 months.

GALATIA'S NEW RESERVOIR, pictured here while under construction, is now in its final stages. Top photo shows the spillway as it was being constructed on the north end of the reservoir. Lower photo reveals work which has been done in preparing the site for a water storage point and for a dam along the east end. Galatia presently has a 5-acre water reservoir adjacent to the water works, but as a measure to provide ample water, townspeople decided to add a second when wells failed as a source. The site of the new reservoir contains some 60 acres and was purchased from J. E. Sprague a few months ago. Approximately eight to nine acres will be under water at this new reservoir. As the water is needed, valves can be opened to release it into a stream which will carry the water, by natural gravity flow, downstream to a point where it can be pumped into the lower reservoir. A Marion construction firm has the contract for the work. W. R. Gray is water superintendent at Galatia. (Register Staff Photos)

SAPPORO, Japan — (AP) — The U. S. Army's Far East Radio Network is an ad man's dream—but he can't use it.

With a captive audience of American military men tuned to English language broadcasts, commercial writers would have a picnic. However, Army policy forbids forcing hard-selling spot announcements into the ears of this captive audience.

When commercials normally are heard—at station breaks or at the beginning, middle or end of programs — Army commanders get their messages across to the troops in brief announcements. These "spots" may be designed to further fire prevention campaigns, make soldiers cost conscious, help safety drives, raise funds for the Red Cross and other charitable agencies, or similar "public service" activities.

The Far East Network consists of 18 stations, serving listeners in Japan, Korea and Okinawa. Typical of these stations is FEN-Hok-kaido, heard mostly by men of the Army's First Cavalry Division and Regional Camp Crawford.

The programming recipe here consists of five ingredients—based on listener preferences. They are humor, drama, music, sports and news. Disc jockeys and musical request shows are top favorites. Live dramatic shows are presented, using talents of men in the area. The station develops and plans its shows so that personnel changes will not affect their production.

Weekly stateside shows are rebroadcast here approximately four weeks after the original show is aired. A short wave link, operating from Armed Forces Radio Service in Los Angeles, provides live programs for speeches of national figures and important events.

V8 POWER, COMPLETE RE-STYLING MARK CHEVROLETS—A styling advance from any point of view is claimed by the company for 1955 Chevrolets. The latest lineup of 14 models has been completely restyled and in addition incorporates the widest array of chassis improvements ever offered by Chevrolet on a new model. Lower, fleetier lines are accompanied by new frames, new suspensions, new operating devices and new power. With the optional Powerglide or overdrive and new V8 engine plus two six-cylinder engines, a customer has a choice of six "power packages." The Bel Air 4-door sedan is pictured above. The new Chevrolet will be on display tomorrow at Saline Motor Co., local dealer.

New Chevrolet On Display Tomorrow; Line Features New V-8 Engine

Pronounced mechanical advances, plus new riding comfort and a complete re-styling of bodies give Chevrolet for 1955 its most spectacular model announcement.

No major part of the car has been overlooked in the broad-scale improvement program. Driving ease and riding comfort benefit along with the creation of fresh automotive design. The accomplishment, says the company, has been possible only because of a thorough job of product re-engineering and the tremendous new plant facilities Chevrolet adds this year.

The 1955 models will go on display at dealer showrooms nationally tomorrow. (The new Chevrolet will be displayed locally by Saline Motor Co.). From an extraordinary long list of new features the public will see at that time, these are particularly outstanding:

1 — First automobiles in the low-price field to reflect the "dream car" influence of the General Motors Motoramas. All roofs have been visibly lowered with a corresponding reduction in hood and belt lines to accentuate a longer, fleetier appearance. Overall, sedans have been lowered two and one-half inches, station wagons as much as six. At the same time, passenger room has been increased.

Higher Horsepower
2 — First V8 engine offered on a Chevrolet in 35 years. Named the "Turbo-Fire V8," the V8 delivers 162 horsepower.

3 — Higher horsepower ratings and new quietness and smoothness in two "Blue Flame" sizes. Engines are of the traditional valve-in-head design. A 123-horsepower engine is available with the manual gearshift. The six built exclusively for the Powerglide automatic transmission now develops 136 horsepower.

4 — Integrated body and frame design.

5 — Front and rear suspensions revamped.

Overdrive Optional
6 — Increased safety through greater visibility. Every car window of safety plate glass — front, rear and side — is larger in 1955 Chevrolet bodies. The gain is due largely to the extension of glass over areas that have been "blind spots" since the early days of the automobile. Increase in visibility through the sweep-sight windshield alone is 19 per cent. As another example of the improvement, glass area in four-door sedans totals an amazing 24.5 square feet.

7 — Optional overdrive. An overdrive installation will be offered for the first time. Engine speed reduction of more than 20% is accomplished by the overdrive which automatically cuts in when the foot is lifted off the accelerator above 31 miles an hour. Optional overdrive brings to six the number of "power packages" available on each 14 Chevrolet passenger car models.

8 — More electrical power. A 12-volt electrical system will furnish ample reserve power for the ever-growing demands of accessories. The system is standard on both sixes and V8s, assuring increased generator efficiency and higher starting motor speeds.

9 — "Dry Air" ventilation.

10 — Tubeless tires for increased safety.

11 — Smoother power application. The torque tube drive is replaced by a hutchkiss drive to deliver power more smoothly to the rear wheels and to provide a "flatter" ride in combination with the longer springs.

12 — Easier steering. From power steering, an improved version of which is available on 1955 cars, Chevrolet has adopted the recirculating ball-nut gear and combined it with a relay type of linkage that increases smoothness and reduces driver effort. A more rigid wheel coupling and truer geometry is also claimed.

Most distinguishing mark of the new Chevrolet bodies is their low-slung silhouette and vertical windshield pillars. Broad, flat hood and trunk lids are approximately three and one-half inches lower than last year while the high, straight crown of the fenders enhances an impression of fleetness and agility. The design gives the cars the appearance of much greater length although wheelbases remain unchanged.

Brand new among 14 bodies on the One-Fifty, Two-Ten and Bel Air series are two-door station wagons. The complete line-up shows two and four-door sedans in all series, two-door station wagons in the One-Fifty and Two-Ten, four-door station wagons in the Two-Ten and Bel Air, a utility sedan in the One-Fifty, a club coupe in the Two-Ten and sport and convertible coupes in the Bel Air series.

Even more appealing colors than the brilliant array of 1954 are available. Of 14 solid color options, ten are new. All 21 of the two-tone paint combinations are new except one. An interesting sidelight is a special two-toning option on Bel Air convertibles and sport coupes which extends the top color onto the rear deck and quarter panels. Unusually luxurious interiors combine harmonizing colors and a variety of cloths and plastics.

Business Planes Outnumber Airliners

WASHINGTON — American business has taken to the skies in such numbers that today's fleet of business planes is almost 17 times larger than that operated by the nation's fleet of domestic airlines.

In fact, according to Planes, official publication of the Aircraft Industries Association, U. S. businesses own almost twice as many large, multi-engine transport planes as do the scheduled domestic airlines.

Latest figures show that business planes now number 21,500 — of which 2,437 are multi-engine and 19,063 are single-engine. Aircraft on scheduled airlines total 1,269. The industry publication says the sharp rise in use of aircraft by corporations and professional men, as well as by small businesses, has made this type of flying one of the major factors in the U. S. civil aviation picture.

Last year, these business planes spent an estimated 6,450,000 hours in the air, covering approximately 963,000,000 miles on business trips. This compares with a total of about 525,000,000 plane miles flown by the scheduled airlines, although the commercial airlines carry tremendously larger numbers of passengers.

Marriages of Engineers Seem to Be Lasting

CHICAGO — Engineers who marry usually stay married, according to the results of a survey of Illinois Institute of Technology graduates.

No divorces were reported in three of the five graduating classes surveyed. Of the other two classes, one had just one divorce, and the other showed a 2 per cent divorce rate. This compares with a national divorce rate of about 25 per cent. Earl C. Kubicek, who conducted the survey, said the relatively high job security enjoyed by engineers in recent years probably is one factor responsible for their low divorce rate.

Women Rate Cooking Tops in Housework

WASHINGTON — What phase of housework do women prefer as long as they must do housework? Apparently it's meal preparation.

Cooking rated the most popular and care of children a close second in a study by the Michigan Experiment Station.

The U. S. Department of Agriculture, reporting the station's findings, said city and suburban homemakers were interviewed. Both the women in lower and medium incomes were represented and all were about the age of 40 and all had children of school age.

The least desirable job was house-cleaning. Mending and making over clothes came next on the unpopularity list.

The station found that women in the lower income group liked washing clothes more than those of medium income, even though the latter used more automatic washers or sent more laundry out. Ironing was an unpopular task, and more than one-third of the women said it was the most tiring of all housework.
